Admission Test FAQs

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

When will I know my scores?

You should be able to view them immediately after completing the test.

Do I need to do anything further to get the scores to Lakeview's Admission Office?

Yes, please contact us after you take the test. We will need to know that date that you took the test in order to retrieve your scoring report.

What scores do I need for admission?

We require or recommend that you score as follows on the HESI RN A2 Admission Assessment Exam in order to be competitive for admission:

English Language or Reading Comprehension	75% REQUIRED
Science	60% Recommended
Math	70% Recommended
Cumulative	70% Recommended

Is it possible that I may not get admitted even if I meet the recommended scores?

It depends upon the applicant pool for the admission cycle. If there are more applicants than seats available and every applicant meets the recommended scores, it is possible that all will not be admitted. Keep in mind that regardless of how you score, you must meet the minimum cumulative GPA requirement of 2.5/4.0 and complete all coursework required for admission prior to beginning the nursing program.

Can I still be admitted if I score lower than Lakeview recommends?

It depends upon the applicant pool for the admission cycle. Applicants with scores below the recommendations will only be considered if seats remain after those reaching the recommended scores are admitted.

How do I qualify for Early Admission Decision?

If you hold at least a 3.0/4.0 GPA and have the majority of your science coursework complete you may qualify for an early decision.
